ABOUT THE STATE Happenings of Interest from Different Sections.

Rutland ministers and churches have entered a protest against the act introduced in the legislature permitting selectmen or aldermen to license moving picture houses, ice cream parlors and fruit stands for Sunday business.

Ephraim Wilder, 70, was found dead in his home in Shaftsbury Friday morning. Mr. Wilder was last seen alive the previous Monday, when he appeared in his usual health. He had been very melancholy since the death of a daughter and had preferred to live alone, refusing the hospitality of friends.

Frank L. Austin, a prominent architect of Burlington, narrowly escaped serious injury at the Franklin County bank building Saturday morning, when he slipped from a ladder and fell to the floor below. Had not the fall been broken by a workman, death might have resulted. It is thought he will be about in a few days.

Alden Brothers of Boston have notified buried Tuesday. the milk producers of Windham county that the milk car from that county will be discontinued on April 1. The farmers are much puzzled to know what to do with the milk after that time and have send a delegation to Boston to discuss the matter with the Aldens. One man in East Poultney, Henry W. Frost, has been shipping 400 quarts a day and many other farmers have been shipping as much as 200 quarts.

Two women who rented a room in the hotel at the Union station in Burlington Saturday night, but remained in it only few minutes, left behind a two-week old infant and took the next train south. Their suitcases were checked to Waterbury, but it is thought they had no intention of stopping off there. Each woman was about 20 years old. The authorities are on the lookout for the women, as there is a heavy penalty for abandoning a child.

In a runaway accident in Bennington Saturday, Fred Lawrence, 19, was quite badly hurt about the head. The horses became frightened when the wheels of the milk wagon to which they were attached became caught in the electric car track and they ran, throwing the driver out. He struck on his head and a gash was cut. He was also stunned, but no lasting injury was done. Farther on th outfit collided with a truck team, the milk being spilled over the street.

Arrangements have been made between Frank H. Duffy, director of the federal employment bureau in Rutland, and P. F. Howley, owner of the building in which the bureau is located, so that the bureau ordered because of lack of funds. Mr. Duffy will give his services free and Mr. Howley will give the rent of the office as his contribution until there are funds available, as it is thought an appropri-

So you may have a movement of the bowels except day and yet there will remain waste matter that ought to be removed.

Give your bowels a gentle but thorough cleaning out and you'll feel great.

A fine prescription for this is put up and sold under the name of Dr. True's Elixir.

Doctors and druggists use it in their own families. Costs but little and brings health to men, women and children. Sweet and pleasant tasting. Works gently. Children like it.
